A MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD CHEESE

Season greetings! Football season, that is! Welcome to the 1995 version of the Central Florida Packer Backers. I want to personally thank you for your continued involvement and support which makes us the #1 fan club around. We begin this new season with a new site, some new faces, but will continue to enjoy the same fun we have had in the past. A lot is planned for this year including great events, great parties and some great prizes you could win. All of this will unfold as the season rolls along. In the meantime I want you to focus on the real reason the CFGBPB's exist... to watch the Packers and have lots of fun at the same time. It's about time for the kickoff... so kick back and enjoy. "Let there be football!"

-Dave Walraven CFGBPB head cheese

AND THE SURVEY SAYS...

Winners for the preseason survey quiz will be picked after the first quarter of today's game. Only one person had them all correct, (yes, there was a trick question), but many tied for the second prize. The drawing will be held at the MaGuire Chi-Chi's, and the results will be delivered to Kissimmee via carrier pigeon.

WHO WAS HIS AGENT?

From the history books. It was exactly 100-years ago this week (August 31, 1895) when Latrobe, Pennsylvania played Jeannette, Pennsylvania. For that game, the Latrobe team hired a substitute Quarterback, John Brallier, for ten-dollars in expense money, making him the first ever professional football player!

He would have also been the very first sports personality to be featured in a Nike television commercial... but unfortunately, no one back in 1895 had a clue what the hell a "Nike," a "television" or a "commercial" was!

18 OR 16 TO 4

The NFL season won't expand past 16-games in the foreseeable future, nor will the pre-season schedule be shortened according to the Commish. Paul Tagliabue says that he thinks "there is continued strong interest in having an adequate number of pre-season games. Right now, I think it's four."

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR SPONSOR

A couple of Packer Sundays will be specially sponsored by some of our entrepreneuring CFGBPB members. On October 15th, we'll promote "Frank's Carpet and Upholstery" day, thanks to Packer Bob. (He has a very big vacuum cleaner that really sucks.) Then on November 19th, we will hold "Hard Rock" day, thanks to Packer Andrea. (She's currently working on moving the Chicago Hard Rock Cafe 100-miles to the north.)

If your business would like to sponsor a day... please see Packer Dave. It's tacks detectable.
