COSTUME PARTY

Last Thursday, on Halloween, Detroit QB Scott Mitchell talked to the press with a big cigar in his mouth and a pillow stuffed under the front of his shirt. Mocking head coach "Wayne Fontes," Mitchell said he was really sorry for pulling Mitchell out of the game last Sunday. Apparently, Fontes was not amused. It looks like back-up quarterback Don Majkowski will start today.

Word is Mitchell plans to save the outfit and dress as someone just as scary next Halloween... John Madden.

HE SHOULD CHANGE HIS LAST NAME

Have you been keeping track of Jerry Greene's weak-ly predictions in the Orlando Sentinel? If all of his guesses came to be this season, the Packers would have a 2-6 record. The only thing Jerry is qualified to pick is his own belly button lint. Hey, Greeney-boy is entitled to his opinion... and, by gosh, so are you! Show your Packers Pride and let Jerry know how you feel about the Pack and his picks. For your convenience, here's how to get a hold of Jerry Greene. By phone (420-5474), by fax (420-5069), and by E-mail: (osogreene@aol.com).

By-the-way... for those interested in talking with other Green Bay Packers fans on the World Wide Web, you might want to check out this internet address: (BearSuck@aol.com).

ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS ONCE

O.K., so your blood has thinned out a tad since moving south to Florida. But do you still crave a beer soaked brat during football season... or search in vain for a parish picnic each summer. If you do, you must be from the Dairy State. With a tip of the Vince Lombardi style fedora to Wausau City Pages writer Paul Kennedy, here's a quick quiz for you to take just to see how much cheese still runs through your veins.

1. At weddings, you enjoy working up a good sweat by: (a) doing the Flying Dutchman; (b) doing the Chicken Dance; (c)

doing the polka; (d) eating

2. Have you ever tipped a cow? And if so, how much?

3. Of the following historical events, which had the greatest impact on your life? (a) the assassination of John F. Kennedy; (b) the lunar landing; (c) Watergate; (d) the first two Super Bowls; (e) enforcement of the 21-year-old drinking age
