LOOK SHARP LIKE CHEDDAR CHEESE

Cindy Crawford thinks they're "so vogue." Tyra Banks predicted it will be the "fashion trend of the year." And Elle McPherson claims she will wear it or nothing at all.

They're all talking about the new CFGBPB club t-shirts that boast the greatest team in NFL history... The Green Bay Packers! The shirts are made of pre-shrunk cotton and sell for just $15. But, CFGBPB members can make a fashion statement and purchase the shirt for only 10-bucks! (Illinois residents please add a 346% loser tax.)

FAVRE FURIOUS

Packers QB Brett Favre said he was upset by his poor performance in the 26-15 loss to Detroit last week, but also by some of the Lions' tactics on the field. That was one of the reasons why he refused to talk to reporters after the loss at the SilverDome. Favre says some players are out to injure him by going after his knees. He said, "I respect this game the way people play it, but when you kind of go out of the lines of the rules, it's not right. You can end a guy's career." He said he was also furious over helmet-first hits that Lions free safety Mark Carrier delivered to receivers Don Beebe and Robert Brooks. To make matters worse, Beebe's head was snapped back by linebacker Stephen Boyd after being hit by Carter. Beebe was knocked unconscious for several minutes. Boyd and Carter have a promising career ahead of the them. Not in the N-F-L... but instead as the Dirty Detroit Duo, the latest evil tag-team to join up with the W-W-F!

LEAVE THE DRIVING TO BUS

Frogger's of Hunter's Creek is sponsoring the CFGBPB bus trip to Tampa for the "Battle of the Bays" game on December 7th. The cost is $18 per person. Individuals can sign up in person at either CFGBPB location (Frogger's or One Eyed Jack's), or by mailing a check along with all the usual information (name, address, phone, membership number...) To the Central Florida Packer Backers, PO Box 3027, Winter Park, FL, 32790. Registration deadline is November 9th with no cancellations or refunds after that date. Buses are tentatively scheduled to depart at 7:30am from two Frogger's locations, 4459 N. Pine Hills Road and 4112 Town Center

Boulevard. Members are asked to state their preference. Arrival in Tampa will be in time for the 9:30am tailgate party. Seats are limited and will be assigned in the order received... so sign up as soon as possible. CFGBPB members will have priority over non-members until November 1st.

The cost covers the bus, soft drinks and beer, snacks, gratuity plus pre-trip coffee and doughnuts. For additional information, contact Kent Simmons at 291-2888.

LOOK AT ALL THE EMPTY SEATS!

The Oilers have faced empty seats and alienated fans in their first three months in Tennessee. Now count the governor among the critics. Governor Don Sundquist thinks the team bungled its relocation, needs to change its name and generally get its act together. "They've absolutely botched it," Sundquist said. The Oilers drew 30,171 on its opening day. (That's because there were 20,000 Oilers fans sitting in the Houston Astrodome waiting for the game to begin over there.) And just 17,737 showed up for their second home game on September 21st against Baltimore. (That's nothing. There are more people standing in line to go to the bathroom during halftime at Lambeau!)

Governor Sundquist thinks the team should change their name to the Tennessee Stars. That's pretty lame. Leave it to us to come up with five much better ideas. Take your pick.

1. The Team Formally Known as the Houston Oilers
2. The Tennessee Valley Vacants
3. The Smoky Jokies
4. The Tennessee Tardys
5. Nashville No-Shows

BOWLING, BEER AND MORE BEER

The Packers may have a Sunday off in two weeks but that won't stop us die-hard Green Bay fans from getting together for a couple two-tree beers. It's the second annual CFGBPB "Bowling Party" on Sunday afternoon, October 19th at the Aloma Bowl at 2530 Aloma Avenue in Winter Park. There will be free bowling and beer (while they last) for all CFGBPB members. All that Wisconsin-styled fun starts at around 1pm. Bowling tip: Make believe the head pin is a short and stubby Troy Aikman.
